

GRAMMAR

Q1

Direction for questions 1 to 5: In each of the following sentences, a part of the sentence is underlined. Beneath each sentence, four different ways of phrasing the underlined part are indicated. Choose the best alternative and mark the letter corresponding with it as your answer.

Despite the prohibition of chemical weapons under several international treaties and the Geneva Convention, white phosphorus and a napalm derivative was used without discrimination over the civilian population of a city, the size of Edinburgh throughout 2004.

- ☐ a) and the Geneva Convention, white phosphorus and a napalm derivative was used without discrimination over the civilian population
- ☐ b) and by the Geneva Convention white phosphorus and a napalm derivative was used without discrimination on the civilian population
- ☐ c) and the Geneva Convention, white phosphorus and a napalm derivative were used without discrimination on the civilian population

- ☒ d) by the Geneva Convention, white phosphorous and a napalm derivative were used without discrimination on the civilian population (Your answer - ✓)

Q2

Direction for questions 1 to 5: In each of the following sentences, a part of the sentence is underlined. Beneath each sentence, four different ways of phrasing the underlined part are indicated. Choose the best alternative and mark the letter corresponding with it as your answer.

The British, once renowned for their stiff upper lip and effulgence, is now regarded as a nation of hooligans.

☐ a) stiff upper lip and effulgence is regarded now as a nation

☒ b) stiff upper lip and effulgence is now regarded as a nation (Your answer - ✖)

☐ c) stiff upper lip and effulgence are now regarded as a nation. (Correct Answer - ✔)

☐ d) stiff upper lip and effulgence are regarded now like a nation

Direction for questions 1 to 5: In each of the following sentences, a part of the sentence is underlined. Beneath each sentence, four different ways of phrasing the underlined part are indicated. Choose the best alternative and mark the letter corresponding with it as your answer.

I sprang to my feet, for the expression on the millionaire's face was fiendish in its intensity and he had raised his great knotted fist.

☐ a) was fiendish in it's intensity and he raised

☐ b) was fiendish in its intensity and he had raised (Correct Answer - ✔)

☐ c) was fiendish in it's intensity and he had raised

☒ d) was fiendish in it's intensity and he rose (Your answer - ✖)

Direction for questions 1 to 5: In each of the following sentences, a part of the sentence is underlined. Beneath each sentence, four different ways of phrasing the underlined part are indicated. Choose the best alternative and mark the letter corresponding with it as your answer.

Necessity in nature is the idea that in a given set of circumstances, there is not only no alternative to what exists or comes to pass, but that nothing other than what does exist or occurs could have existed.

- ☐ a) not only is there no alternative to what exists or comes to pass, but that (Correct Answer - ✓)
- ☐ b) there is no alternative not only to what exists or comes to pass, but that
- ☐ c) there are not only no alternatives to what exists or come to pass, but that
- ☐ d) not only are there no alternatives to what exist or come to pass, but that

Direction for questions 1 to 5: In each of the following sentences, a part of the sentence is underlined. Beneath each sentence, four different ways of phrasing the underlined part are indicated. Choose the best alternative and mark the letter corresponding with it as your answer.

Undeniably, many philosophers today consider logical empiricism wrongheaded or passé; often these result from a confusion of logical empiricism with logical positivism.

- ☐ a) often it results in a confusion of logical empiricism and logical positivism
- ☐ b) resulting often as a confusion of logical empiricism with logical positivism

- ☒ c) the result often is from confusion between logical empiricism and logical positivism (Your answer - ✗)
- ☐ d) often this results from a confusion of logical empiricism with logical positivism (Correct Answer - ✓)

Direction for questions 6 to 9: In the following questions, there are five sentences or parts of sentences that form a paragraph. Identify the sentence(s) or part(s) of sentence(s) that is/are correct in terms of grammar and usage. Then, choose the most appropriate option.

- a. Ignorance is usually fatal which is why people have been suffering for so long.
- b. Whether it was a cave dwelling ancestor eating a berry without knowing the difference between an edible or a poisonous one, or a kid crossing a busy intersection without looking both ways, in the end it was ignorance that cost them dearly.
- c. When the mind is left undeveloped and unable to grasp the true nature of things, it builds a model of the world.
- d. That is, at best, shaky and at worst, completely not in synchronization with reality.
- e. Yet, such ignorance is curable and can be dispelled with healthy doses of trial and error, experience and teaching.

☒ a) a, b and d (Your answer - ✖)

☐ b) c and d

☐ c) a and e (Correct Answer - ✔)

☐ d) c and e

Solution:

Statements a and e are correct. In b, it should be '..... between an edible and a poisonous one'. c and d both have errors. c has an abrupt end and d a sudden start. On careful reading it can be seen that they are one sentence. c should have no full stop and continues to d which should read 'that' and not 'That'. Further, in d, the correction of the error "not in synchronization with" is "out of synchronization with".
Choice (C)

Direction for questions 6 to 9: In the following questions, there are five sentences or parts of sentences that form a paragraph. Identify the sentence(s) or part(s) of sentence(s) that is/are correct in terms of grammar and usage. Then, choose the most appropriate option.

- a. Ignorance is usually fatal which is why people have been suffering for so long.
- b. Whether it was a cave dwelling ancestor eating a berry without knowing the difference between an edible or a poisonous one, or a kid crossing a busy intersection without looking both ways, in the end it was ignorance that cost them dearly.
- c. When the mind is left undeveloped and unable to grasp the true nature of things, it builds a model of the world.
- d. That is, at best, shaky and at worst, completely not in synchronization with reality.
- e. Yet, such ignorance is curable and can be dispelled with healthy doses of trial and error, experience and teaching.

☒ a) a, b and d (Your answer - ✖)

☐ b) c and d

☐ c) a and e (Correct Answer - ✔)

☐ d) c and e

Direction for questions 6 to 9: In the following questions, there are five sentences or parts of sentences that form a paragraph. Identify the sentence(s) or part(s) of sentence(s) that is/are correct in terms of grammar and usage. Then, choose the most appropriate option.

- a. In the 16th century when tens of thousands
- b. of hungry Scots migrated to Poland looking at work, the names of some became Polonised.
- c. Macleod became Machlejd; Chalmers, Czarmas; and Ramsay, Ramzy.
- d. If the new Highlanders stick around for
- e. long enough, perhaps the names will revert back.

☒ a) Only a (Your answer - ✖)

☐ b) c, d and e (Correct Answer - ✔)

☐ c) b and e

☐ d) c and a

Direction for questions 6 to 9: In the following questions, there are five sentences or parts of sentences that form a paragraph. Identify the sentence(s) or part(s) of sentence(s) that is/are correct in terms of grammar and usage. Then, choose the most appropriate option.

- a. Politicians, who tend to be well-meaning
- b. but bossy types, find it hard to resist intruding
- c. at the private lives of their fellow-citizens, especially
- d. when some of those private lives are conducted in a way that trouble respectable society.
- e. They meddle for their peril, however.

- ☐ a) b and d
- ☐ b) a, b and e

☐ c) a and b (Correct Answer - ✓)

- ☐ d) c, d and e

Directions for questions 10 to 13: Each question consists of a few sentences based on a topic. Some of the sentences are grammatically incorrect or inappropriate. Select as your answer the option that indicates the grammatically correct and appropriate sentence(s).

- a. Indians naturally make excellent sports presenters primarily because of two basic traits.
- b. First is their knowledge of the game, which one might guess comes naturally to them, and secondly and more important, a deep and abiding passion.
- c. Alan Wilkins, a cricket analyst and commentator, was in Mumbai as the judge of Mumbai auditions for Cricket commentators and was taken aback by both the quality as well as the depth that some of the participants had.
- d. Youngsters, software and corporate professionals, and others were there to prove that they have it in them to be the next face of cricket presentation in India.
- e. It was fascinating though some of them actually brought out a uniquely fresh perspective to the art of cricket presentation.

- ☐ a) a, b and d
- ☐ b) b, d and e
- ☐ c) Only a

☐ d) a and d (Correct Answer - ✓)

Directions for questions 10 to 13: Each question consists of a few sentences based on a topic. Some of the sentences are grammatically incorrect or inappropriate. Select as your answer the option that indicates the grammatically correct and appropriate sentence(s).

- a. Many people believe that high BP can be cured; they stop drugs when the BP levels fall.
- b. What they need to understand is that hypertension is incurable, but can be kept within limits with the right lifestyle changes and drug therapy.
- c. The goal for most patients should be to lower the systolic BP below 130 mm Hg and the diastolic BP below 90 mm Hg.
- d. And it is wise not to forget that high BP is the first – and an easily measurable – irreversible sign that many organs in the body are on attack.
- e. BP levels can be kept lower by adopting a healthy lifestyle, a positive outlook with low stress levels and making the right changes in diet.

☒ a) Only b (Correct Answer - ✓)

- ☐ b) b, c and e
- ☐ c) a and d
- ☐ d) a, d and e

Directions for questions 10 to 13: Each question consists of a few sentences based on a topic. Some of the sentences are grammatically incorrect or inappropriate. Select as your answer the option that indicates the grammatically correct and appropriate sentence(s).

- a. Hiding amidst the shadows of jagged mountains is the snow leopard, a creature so mysterious only a few would have had the luck to catch a glimpse of it.
- b. Adapted fully to the harsh environment, the leopard is the unchallenged predator of the high snowy mountains.
- c. A smoky grey coat mottled with black rosettes provides the snow leopard such an excellent camouflage it can become almost invisible in its natural environment.
- d. In the harsh winters, snow leopards grow a thicker fur.

- ☐ a) b and d
- ☐ b) a, b and d
- ☐ c) c and d
- ☐ d) a and c

Directions for questions 10 to 13: Each question consists of a few sentences based on a topic. Some of the sentences are grammatically incorrect or inappropriate. Select as your answer the option that indicates the grammatically correct and appropriate sentence(s).

- a. Pandey shows how the colonialist construction of Indian history incorporated religious bigotry and conflict as a distinctive feature of Indian society.
- b. This was an essentialism understanding of Indian history as religious conflict was accepted as a valid part of Indian society.
- c. Pandey's close examination of the various colonial accounts of the Banaras riots of 1809 demonstrate this essentialist reading of an event.
- d. The reductionist tendencies of the colonialist discourses made it appear as if the disturbances were part of a continuum of Indian society and, thus, provided justification for colonial rule.

☐ a) a and d (Correct Answer - ✓)

☐ b) b and c

☐ c) c and d

☐ d) a and b

Directions for question 14: Identify the incorrect sentence or sentences.

- a. Another day dawned without any change in the situation.
- b. The militia in arms occupy the square.
- c. The inhabitants stood around awaiting the solution.
- d. People from neighbouring villages come to look on.
- e. Finally the doctor, realizing that his reputation was at stake, resolved to settle the thing in one way or another.

☐ a) a and c

☐ b) b and d (Correct Answer - ✓)

☐ c) a and e

☐ d) Only e

Directions for question 15: In the following question, four different ways of presenting an idea are given. Choose the one that conforms most closely to Standard English usage.

- ☐ a) Harboured by the remote and pristine rainforests in the north of the Democratic Republic of Congo (DRC) near its border to the Central African Republic, Science did not know anything about the unusually large and aggressive chimpanzees until recently – apart of local legends of giant apes that ate lions and howled at the moon.
- ☐ b) Harboured by the remote and pristine rainforests in the north of the Democratic Republic of Congo DRC) near its border by the Central African Republic, the unusually large and aggressive chimpanzees were unknown by Science until recently – apart of local legends of giant apes that ate lions and howled at the moon.
- ☐ c) Harboured by the remote and pristine rainforests in the north of the Democratic Republic of Congo (DRC) near its border with the Central African Republic, the unusually large and aggressive chimpanzees were unknown to Science until recently – apart from local legends of giant apes that ate lions and howled at the moon. (Correct Answer - ✓)
- ☐ d) Harboured by the remote and pristine rainforests in the north of the Democratic Republic of Congo (DRC) near its border on the Central African Republic, Science did not know anything about the unusually large and aggressive chimpanzees until recently – apart from local legends of giant apes that ate lions and howled at the moon.